SHENYANG OVERSEAS ELITES INNOVATION AND ENTREPRENEURSHIP COMPETITION IN GERMANY

China Shenyang Overseas Elite Innovation & Entrepreneurship Competition (the "Haichuang Competition") aims to gather and integrate elites worldwide, guide all sectors of society to support their innovation and entrepreneurship, build a special service platform for them, develop an entrepreneurial eco-system and stimulate the enthusiasm in innovation and entrepreneurship. All the efforts will be made to optimize the business environment in Shenyang and facilitate the city's high-quality development and revitalization in the new era. The competition is co-hosted by the Liaoning Association for Science and Technology and People's Government of Shenyang Municipality. The Shenyang Haichuang competition is co-organized by the Shenyang Association for Science and Technology and the Sino-German Development (Shenyang) Offshore Innovation Service Center at Frankfurt / Heidelberg. China's one belt, one road strategy and innovation driven development strategy are the key elements of the opening up of China. The German division of Shenyang Haichuang Competition strengthens exchanges and cooperation with overseas institutions and groups all over Europe with the help of the Haichuang Competition, as well as providing services for entrepreneurs based in Europe. Swiss based company UMI ASIA AG is specialized in helping European companies and start-ups to expand to Asia; it supports the preparation and execution of the competition.
